

OISE London - Tutorial Programme Focus on the Individual

In tutorials, students can explore topics that are of interest to them and receive continuous practice and feedback on their accuracy and progress. The tutor is able to devote 100% attention to the student while teaching methods can be adapted to their individual learning style for maximum results.

“Tutorial lessons challenge the student, with an opportunity to extend the English they have while focusing on areas relevant to their needs and aims”

Roger Tebb, Tutorial tutor

A pre-course questionnaire is sent to all students when they enrol on the Tutorial Programme. Once this is completed and returned to the school by fax or e-mail a telephone assessment is arranged between the student and the school's Academic Manager. Our Academic team use these to find out exactly what the student aims to achieve during their stay in London. Determining this information in advance enables our teachers to put in maximum preparation prior to the student's arrival so that their lessons target their needs from day one.

Meeting other students

Tutorial Programme students have the opportunity to socialise with other OISE London students daily. Our News Review class offers the opportunity to practice presentation skills and to discuss current affairs with colleagues and at the end of the school day there is our teacher-led leisure programme. Typical activities include walking tours of London, gallery and museum trips, dining out and musicals.
