

OISE Newbury Study Hall Report - Scholar English

Level on arrival: B2

Current level: B2

Overall Assessment

The student demonstrates strong motivation and engagement in his English language studies. His enthusiasm for learning is evident through his proactive approach to challenging himself with advanced materials and his consistent effort across all language skills.

He shows particular strength in spoken fluency and listening comprehension, indicating a solid foundation for continued progress.

Long-term Development

The student shows excellent potential to achieve C1 level with dedicated focus on academic skills. His strong foundation in speaking and listening, combined with his motivation and engagement, positions him well for advancement.

The key will be patience with the writing development process and recognition that academic English requires different skills from conversational fluency.

Conclusion

The student possesses many of the qualities of a successful language learner: motivation, engagement, and natural communication ability.

While his overall English proficiency is solid at B2 level, achieving C1 academic standard will require dedicated attention to formal writing skills and academic conventions. With focused effort on these areas, particularly academic writing structure and register, he has strong potential to reach his C1 goals.

The foundation is excellent - now the focus must shift to refining academic precision and formal expression.
